

BODEGAS SONSIERRA TEMPRANILLO BLANCO DOCA RIOJA 2018

WINE INTRODUCTION

Sonsierra's position, south of the Cantabrian Mountains and north of the River Ebro, creates an Atlantic microclimate with a Mediterranean influence that is highly advantageous for vine-growing

These qualities make the terroir of Sonsierra one of the most suitable in all Rioja for the cultivation of high-quality vines.

Having so many hectares of vineyards, with vines of different ages and planted at different altitudes, provides us with a wide range of qualities to choose from when producing wines with different flavour profiles.

WINEMAKER VINTAGE DESCRIPTION

2018 was rated as a good vintage by the Counsel of Rioja, and white wines have a great aromatic intensity and good structure in the mouth.

WINEMAKING NOTE

The must undergoes low-temperature pellicular maceration with the pomace for 24 hours in order to extract the maximum amount of aroma from grapes. After gentle pressing the free-run juice is clarified at cold temperature before being fermented in stainless-steel tanks at a controlled temperature, in order to preserve all the qualities of the grape variety.

APPEARANCE, AROMA AND TASTING NOTE

Pale yellow in color with golden flecks. A highly expressive, intense and complex bouquet. Aromas of fresh apple and pineapple stand out, combined with hints of citrus against a background of subtle floral notes. On the palate it is fresh and voluminous, with an aftertaste filled with fruity sensations that invite us to enjoy another glass.
